

TIM J. FOREMAN

Navy Director Small Business Programs

Mr. Foreman is the Navy Director for Small Business Programs. He is responsible for setting the overall small business policies, objectives and strategies designed to enhance small business prime and subcontracting performance within the Department of the Navy. He is the U.S. Navy leading small business authority and is a direct report to the Secretary of the Navy or the Under Secretary of the Navy on all small business matters.

Prior to his appointment to the Navy, Mr. Foreman had extensive experience in the Office of the Secretary of Defense, Office of Small Business Programs, to include leading many Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) and Defense FAR Supplement (DFARS) cases to implement statutory and regulatory changes to the small business prime and subcontracting programs. He also acted as the office lead for legislative initiatives, GAO and DoD IG cases involving various small business issues.

Mr. Foreman is the current and past President of the Washington DC Chapter of the National Contract Management Association (NCMA). NCMA is a professional organization designed to bring together government contracting and contractor personnel to discuss current and proposed legislative and regulatory issues. NCMA provides a forum for government and contractors to openly discuss how legislative and regulatory issuances affect each party.

Mr. Foreman is a recipient of the “2004 Patriot Administrator Award” by the Association of Service Disabled Veterans on April 7, 2005 in a Capital Hill ceremony. He is a graduate of the Brookings Institution’s “LEGIS FELLOW PROGRAM” program, the Federal Executive Institute’s (FEI) “Leadership for a Democratic Society Program” and the prestigious “Senior Officials National Security (SONS)” program from Harvard University. Mr. Foreman has worked for the Senate Committee on Small Business as the Committee’s Senior Procurement Advisor. He worked closely with Committee members and their staffs to develop small business procurement policy issues.

Mr. Foreman served as a senior price analyst in the Office of the Secretary of Defense. He also served on the Defense Acquisition Regulation Contract Cost Principles Committee. His responsibilities included policy development in the cost principles area, as well as special studies and other accounting issues. Specifically, Mr. Foreman drafted the Historically Underutilized Business Zone (HUBZone) and the Anti-Bundling legislation which can be found in Public Law 105-135.

Mr. Foreman holds a Bachelor of Science degree and a Masters in Business Administration degree from the University of Dayton and a Masters of Accounting degree from American University in Washington, DC. He also successfully completed the "Contemporary Executive Development" program, George Washington University.

Mr. Foreman was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army in 1970. After completion of his active duty military obligation he began his civil service career as a financial analyst in the Defense Contract Administration activity in Dayton, Ohio.